Commission invests € 63.8 million in new environmental projects across Member States

New LIFE funding will help bring over € 1 billion of support to environmental plans across the EU. The European Commission announced an investment of € 63.8

	million for the first-ever "Integrated Projects" to be funded under the LIFE programme for the environment. "Integrated Projects" were introduced to implement environmental legislation on a wider scale and increase the impact of funding for plans developed on the regional, multi-regional or national level. The six projects selected have a total budget of € 108.7 million, including € 63.8 million of EU co-financing. http://europa.eu/rapid/press-release_IP-16-150_en.htm
General development of the EU	Member States agreed on a Commission proposal to invest €217 million in key trans-European energy infrastructure projects In total, 15 projects were selected following a call for proposals under the Connecting Europe Facility (CEF), an EU funding programme for infrastructure. The selected projects will increase energy security and help end the isolation of Member States from EU-wide energy networks. They will also contribute to the completion of a European energy market and the integration of renewables into the electricity grid http://europa.eu/rapid/press-release_IP-16-94_en.htm 2015 Employment and Social Developments review This year's review reveals further positive employment and social developments in the EU. However, despite recent improvements, huge disparities still exist between Member States, in terms of economic growth, employment and other key social and labour market indicators. Many of these disparities are linked to an underutilisation of human capital on several fronts. http://europa.eu/rapid/press-release_IP-16-93_en.htm
Introduction to EU institutions and their Functioning	The European Commission proposed the upgrading of the European Criminal Records Information System. This key action of the European Agenda on Security aims to improve cooperation between national authorities in the fight against terrorism and other forms of serious cross-border crime. This initiative will ensure that ECRIS, which is already widely used for exchange of criminal records of EU citizens, will be used to its full potential http://europa.eu/rapid/press-release_IP-16-87_en.htm
Introduction to EU law	Commission presents new measures against corporate tax avoidance The European Commission has opened up a new chapter in its campaign for fair, efficient and growth-friendly taxation in the EU with new proposals to tackle corporate tax avoidance. The Anti Tax Avoidance Package calls on Member States to take a stronger and more coordinated stance against companies that seek to avoid paying their fair share of tax and to implement the international standards against base erosion and profit shifting. http://europa.eu/rapid/press-release_IP-16-159_en.htm Why does the Commission report on progress in judicial reform and the fight against corruption in Bulgaria and Romania? Upon the accession of Bulgaria and Romania to the European Union on 1 January 2007, certain weaknesses remained in both Member States in the areas of judicial reform and the fight against corruption, and in the case of Bulgaria in the fight against organised crime. These weaknesses could prevent an effective application of EU laws, policies and programmes, and prevent Bulgarians and Romanians from enjoying their full rights as EU citizens.

Multi-level governance	EU Urban Agenda: new working methods to improve coherence of all EU policies on cities The new European Urban Agenda should improve the quality of life in cities but also the EU governance. It is about developing new working methods, including partnerships and selective impact assessments of legislation. European Parliament's Regional Development Committee and Committee of the Region's COTER members stressed in a joint hearing on January 25th that to reach this goal there is a need for a practical and concrete approach, reflecting the needs on the ground and building partnerships with different levels of government. http://cor.europa.eu/en/news/Pages/EU-Urban-Agenda-new-working-methods-to-improve-coherence-of-all-EU-policies-on-cities.aspx

Ports: transport MEPs favour clear public funding rules, but not free market access

The draft rules aim to boost the efficiency of seaports in the trans-European transport network, used by the bulk of EU maritime traffic, so as to make EU industry more competitive, attract investment and foster job creation in EU coastal regions. "We have been able to dismiss the forced free market access to port services. Especially for safety and security concerns, ports must be able to decide on the organisation of port services", said rapporteur Knut Fleckenstein (S&D, DE), who is steering the proposal through Parliament. "For the first time in the course of the long discussions on the port package we have the ports, the terminal operators and the unions on board."

Fiscal Sustainability Report 2015

The Fiscal Sustainability Report 2015 provides an overview of the challenges to public finance sustainability faced by Member States in the short, medium and long term. Although public finances in the EU today are more sustainable than they were at the onset of the crisis, significant challenges remain over the medium and long term because of high debt levels and population ageing.
