EU integration process in CEE countries	Joint statement by High Representative/Vice-President Federica Mogherini and Commissioner Johannes Hahn on Bosnia and Herzegovina's authorities' agreement on key measures on the country's EU path The agreements reached this weekend in Bosnia and Herzegovina - on the coordination mechanism and on the decision to proceed with an IMF programme - are very welcome news. With them, the country's leadership, at all levels, has further demonstrated its commitment to the EU integration path of the country, in line with their citizens' expectations. The coordination mechanism aims at improving the country's policy coordination and implementation, including as regards EU financial assistance, as well as ensuring better interaction with the EU. The decision to proceed with an IMF programme will provide crucial support for the implementation of the Reform Agenda, a comprehensive set of socio-economic, rule of law and public administration reforms. http://europa.eu/rapid/press-release STATEMENT-16-2704_en.htm
Pros, advantages and obligations resulting from EU membership	Simplification of the implementation of Cohesion Policy is the means not the end The process for using the European Structural and Investment Funds (ESIF) is getting more complicated not just with every programming period, but virtually every year. For this reason, I very much welcome the fact that the European Commission has started to seriously tackle simplification and to this end has not only set up a high-level group (HLG), but has also invited the other partners to debate the issue. Part of the simplification process has to be a focus on making the fundamental idea and spirit of cohesion policy as such a reality, and this should be a regional policy. http://cor.europa.eu/en/news/Pages/Simplification-of-the-implementation-of-Cohesion-Policy-is-the-means-not-the-end.aspx

Commitments are what the EU undertakes to spend on programmes and may span more than one year, while payments are the actual expenditure foreseen for the next 12-month period. However, the Council wants to cut the budget for commitments by €1.3 billion in commitments (-0.81%) and for payments by €1.1 billion (-0,82%).According to the

Introduction to EU law	REPORT FROM THE COMMISSION TO THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT, THE COUNCIL AND THE EUROPEAN ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL COMMITTEE on the application of Directive 2008/52/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council on certain aspects of mediation in civil and commercial matters Directive 2008/52/EC on certain aspects of mediation in civil and commercial matters,<sup>1</sup> including the area of family law, seeks to facilitate access to alternative dispute resolution (ADR) and to promote the amicable settlement of disputes, by encouraging the use of mediation and by ensuring a sound relationship between mediation and judicial proceedings. It applies in cross-border disputes to civil and commercial matters and had to be transposed into national law by 21 May 2011. This evaluation of the application of the Directive is carried out in accordance with Article 11 of the Directive. http://ec.europa.eu/justice/civil/files/act_part1_adopted_en.pdf
Decentralized management of EU funds	State aid: Commission approves support schemes for renewable energy in Luxembourg and Malta The European Commission has found plans by Luxembourg and Malta to support power generation from renewable sources to be in line with EU state aid rules. The schemes will increase electricity produced from renewable sources, in line with EU energy objectives, without unduly distorting competition. The Commission assessed the plans under the 2014 Guidelines on state aid for environmental protection and energy, which allow Member States to support the production of electricity from renewable sources under certain conditions. The Luxembourg scheme introduces premium payments to support operators of wind, solar, biogas, hydropower and biomass installations. The total budget of the measure will be approximately €150 million, allocated between 2016 and 2020. http://europa.eu/rapid/press-release_IP-16-2906_en.htm State aid: Commission approves hydropower and biogas support schemes in Czech Republic The European Commission has found that two Czech schemes to support electricity and heat production from hydropower and biogas are in line with EU state aid rules. The schemes will increase energy produced from renewable sources, in line with EU objectives, without unduly distorting competition. The two measures will encourage the deployment of renewable energy installations and help the Czech Republic achieve its 2020 renewable energy targets. http://europa.eu/rapid/press-release_IP-16-2866_en.htm Commission proposes fishing opportunities in the Baltic Sea for 2017 The proposal is based on the recently adopted multiannual fisheries management plan for the Baltic Sea, and takes into consideration scientific advice received in May 2016. The Commission proposes to increase catch limits for 6 out of 10 fish stocks (Western, Bothnian and Central herring, sprat, plaice and main basin salmon) and to decrease catch limits for 2 stocks (Gulf of Riga herring and Gulf of

The proposed framework Regulation will allow data to be published faster, as it reduces the transmission deadlines in a number of areas. It will also increase the comparability and coherence of EU social statistics, by bringing together seven existing household surveys that are currently carried out in the EU and harmonising variables that are common to two or more surveys. This will, in addition, facilitate joint analysis of social phenomena, based on new survey methods.  http://europa.eu/rapid/press-release_IP-16-2867_en.htm Review of Directive 2006/1/EC on the use of hired vehicles for the carriage of goods by road  Consultation period: 11/08/2016 - 4/11/2016  This consultation will last for 12 weeks. Questionnaires should be returned by 4 November 2016 at the very latest. All citizens and organisations are welcome to contribute to this consultation. The consultation can particularly be of interest for citizens or undertakings using road transport services in their activity, road transport workers and companies engaged in the transport chain. It can also be of particular interest for regional, national or international public authorities and other organisations directly involved in the road transport sector.  http://ec.europa.eu/transport/modes/road/consultations/2016-review-hired-vehicles-carriage-goods_en.htm Commission publishes Strategy for low-emission mobility  The Commission presented on 20 July 2016 a package of measures to accelerate the transition to low-carbon emissions in all sectors of the economy in Europe. EU and UNICEF widen partnership to better protect child rights in South-East Europe

The European Union (EU) and UNICEF have broadened an important regional partnership that aims to protect children from violence and better include children with disabilities into society. Since 2011, UNICEF and the EU have been working together with countries currently in the process of joining the EU, such as Albania, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Serbia and Turkey. This partnership is now expanding to include Kosovo*, Montenegro, and the former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia.

Verheugen: car emission rules could be more specific

Former Commissioner Verheugen argued that as Commissioner for industry his main responsibility was to keep the EU car industry globally leading and competitive, with rules best suited for technological development, including pollutants' limits. He relied on experts for the drafting of the directives on Euro 5 (on particles) and Euro 6 (NOx). It was clear that type approval tests didn't represent real driving conditions and therefore a new test started to be developed in 2007 but no one suspected that manufacturers would cheat using so-called defeat devices.
