

The challenges of the public administration development in Romania

*Elvira NICA<sup>a1</sup>, Mihaela MUSAT<sup>b*23</sup>*

<sup>a</sup>The Bucharest University of Economic Studies, Romania

<sup>b</sup>The Bucharest University of Economic Studies, Romania

Abstract: Through this article we want to show that the change of the Romanian society is in close connection with the public administration system, and for a good development it is necessary to introduce a modern dimension in this system and to share the values of the European administrative space. Romania needs a good reform and a centralized development focused on fulfilling the interest of the citizen in order to ensure security and prosperity in the European Union. The improvement of the public administration standards can be ensured by a correct selection of the persons who can fulfill the function of civil servant, subsequently supported by: continuous training and improvement, offering attractive working conditions and the fight against corruption.

Keywords: development, public administration, resources.

JEL Codes: H0, M2, O1, O4.

---

<sup>1</sup> Dean, The Bucharest University of Economic Studies, Bucharest, Romania

<sup>2</sup> Corresponding author. E-mail address: musat.mihaela11@gmail.com

<sup>3</sup> Phd, The Bucharest University of Economic Studies, Bucharest, Romania