

Youth in the Driver's Seat: Leveraging Evidence-Based Policy for Democratic Innovation

Dvorak Jaroslav

Klaipeda University, Dept. of Public Administration and Political Sciences, Klaipeda, Lithuania

Alvyda Obrikien

Abstract: Youth engagement is vital for sustaining vibrant democracies. This presentation explores how evidence-based policy can empower youth to actively shape democratic processes and address complex societal challenges. By focusing on data-driven decision-making, we showcase ways that youth-led initiatives are fostering innovative policy solutions grounded in real-world evidence. The desk research was used for collecting primary evidence on the current research topic. The first findings are still unclear as now we are working on them.